

Microchip Technology Incorporated (the “Company”)

Corporate Governance Policy for Election of Directors

In accordance with the Company’s Bylaws, if there is no contested election of directors (i.e., the number of candidates for election as director does not exceed the number of directors to be elected), a nominee for election or reelection to the Company’s Board of Directors must receive more votes cast for than against his or her election or reelection to be elected or reelected to the Board. The Board expects a director to tender his or her resignation if he or she fails to receive the required number of votes for reelection. The Board shall nominate for election or reelection as directors only candidates who agree to tender, promptly following the stockholders’ meeting at which they are elected or reelected as director, irrevocable resignations that will be effective upon (i) the failure to receive the required vote at the next stockholders’ meeting at which they face reelection and (ii) the Board’s acceptance of such resignation. In addition, the Board shall fill director vacancies and new directorships only with candidates who agree to tender, promptly following their appointment to the Board, the same form of resignation tendered by other directors in accordance with this Board policy.

If an incumbent director fails to receive the required vote for reelection, the Nominating and Governance Committee will act on an expedited basis to determine whether to accept the director’s resignation and will submit such recommendation for consideration by the Board. The Board will determine whether to accept or reject such resignation within 90 days from the certification of the election results. The Board expects the director whose resignation is under consideration to abstain from participating in any decision regarding that resignation. The Nominating and Governance Committee and the Board may consider any factors they deem relevant in deciding whether to accept a director's resignation.

This policy was adopted by the Board on May 19, 2014.